EAGLE PASS (Tex.), April 25.—Reports that negotiations for an alliance between Felix Diaz and Gov. Carranza, constitutional leader, are afoot, have been spread here by four alleged agents of the two Mexican leaders.

Active hostilities in the zone controlled by Carranza are said to have ceased. This is reported to be negotiation by the federal commanders opposing Carranza, Gen. Aubert and Lopez, to join the constitutional cause.

Two of the agents who reached here last night were Eliseo Arrandone and Francisco Quintero, Carranza's confidential agents. They went immediately to Monclova, Mex., to consult with the Governor. The other two were Miguel Gonzalez and Leopoldo Martinez, said to be representatives of Felix Diaz.

The situation there is far more serious than Americans realize. It is vastly more important to this country than the Balkan situation, Americans are forced to see from Mexico because the American flag is not as much respected as the flag of other countries and the Americans, if they remain, do not know whether they will be able to procure damages for their ruined property.

"Please wire me status of proposition to amend alien ownership law so as to strike out words 'ineligible to citizenship.' Understand such an amendment has been submitted or is being considered by the Legislature."

"When proposed amendment relating to ownership of land in this State was introduced in lower house of Legislature, it contained words 'ineligible to citizenship because of race or color,' but these words were afterwards stricken in lower house before adoption and proposed amendment made to read 'The ownership of lands by aliens, other than those who have been declared their intention to become citizens of the United States, is prohibited, etc., and a provision attaching removal of alien status to land in municipalities. This amendment will be submitted to vote of people in November, 1914.'"

ation whose subjects are ineligible to citizenship under the laws of the United States, the full rights to ownership in land in California that the treaties between the United States and such nations give."

Several of the Progressive Republican leaders in the Legislature who saw the bill this morning expressed the hope that it would meet with the approval of the Federal administration. It is generally believed the new act would accomplish the ends desired by the people of the State, namely, to prevent the further acquisition by Japanese subjects of farming lands and ranches.

The full text of the act, with the exception of an additional clause relating to the protection of present holdings, which is still to be added, is as follows:

Section 1. All aliens eligible to citizenship under the laws of the United States may acquire, possess, enjoy, transmit and inherit real property, in the same manner and to the same extent as citizens of the United States, except as otherwise provided by the laws of this State.

Sec. 2. All aliens other than those mentioned in section 1 of this act may acquire, possess, enjoy or transfer real property, or any interest therein, in this State, in the manner and to the extent and for the purposes prescribed by any treaty now existing between the government of the United States and the nation or country of which such alien is a citizen or subject, and not otherwise.

Sec. 3. Any alien, association, corporation or other organization organized under the laws of this or any other State or nation, of which a majority of the members are aliens other than those specified in section 1 of this act, or in which a majority of the issued capital stock is owned by such aliens, may acquire, possess, enjoy or convey real property, or any interest therein, in this State, in the manner and to the extent and for the purposes prescribed by any treaty now existing between the government of the United States and the nation of which such member or stockholder is a citizen or subject, and not otherwise.

Sec. 4. Whenever it appears to the court in any probate proceeding that any alien or device cannot take real property in this State, but for said provisions, said alien or device would take such real property, the court, instead of ordering a distribution of such real property to such alien or device, shall order a sale of said real property, and the proceeds of such sale shall be distributed to such heir or devisee in lieu of such real property.

Sec. 5. Any real property hereafter acquired in fee in violation of the provisions of this act by any alien mentioned in section 3 of this act, or by any company, association or corporation mentioned in section 3 of this act, shall escheat to and become and remain the property of the State of California. The Attorney-General shall institute proceedings to have the escheat of such real property adjudged and enforced in the manner provided by section 474 of the Political Code, and the proceeds of such proceedings shall be distributed to the State of California.

Sec. 6. The provisions of this section and of sections 2 and 3 of this act shall not apply to any real property acquired by an alien, association or corporation mentioned in section 3 of this act, or by any company, association or corporation mentioned in section 3 of this act, or by any company, association or corporation mentioned in section 3 of this act, or by any company, association or corporation mentioned in section 3 of this act.

Sec. 7. Nothing in this act shall be construed as a limitation upon the power of the State to enact laws with respect to the acquisition of land or disposal by aliens of real property in this State.

Sec. 8. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent or in conflict with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed.

WILSON WORRIED OVER ALIEN ACT.*He Plays for Time to Draft
New Japanese Treaty.*Plans in Present Agreement
Make It Unsatisfactory.*Cabinet Confers With Moore and He With China.

[BY A. P. MONT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
WASHINGTON, April 25.—Practically all today was devoted by President Wilson to consideration of the situation arising from California's projected anti-alien land law.

The President was in frequent telegraphic communication with Secretary Bryan at Sacramento, and laid the entire subject before the Cabinet at a two-hour meeting today, with John Bassett Moore, Acting Secretary of State, who in turn was visited by Viscount China, the Japanese Ambassador.

No telegram to or from Secretary Bryan was made public at the White House. Mr. Moore declined to discuss the negotiations and reticence was maintained at the White House. That the President was somewhat worried about the outcome of the situation was the only impression gained from those who had talked with him about the question today.

As far as could be learned, the attitude of the national government is still one of hope that if an anti-alien bill is passed at all it will be along the lines of laws existing in New York, Missouri, Minnesota and other States.

Uncle Sam as Intervenor.
Secretary Bryan's proposition to the California board to suspend the passage and application of anti-Japanese legislation until the President has had an opportunity to negotiate a treaty with Japan, and to the extent of the bill is believed to represent the ultimate opinion which the administration is willing to make in deference to public feeling in California.

Secretary Bryan's statement, in the event of the passage of the legislation, in deference to the President's advice, he would feel obliged to do everything possible "to minimize the ill-feeling that may be aroused," is regarded as making a purpose on the part of the government to interpose an intervenor to the Japanese in any suit which they bring before the Federal courts to enforce the action of the California Legislature.

Assuming that one of the questions which Mr. Bryan has transmitted to the President on behalf of the California Legislature is as to the probable time for negotiating a new treaty with Japan and just how such a convention could be framed to meet the views of California without being objectionable to Japan, it may be said that the President has been given the present issue already has been given some consideration.

PLANS IN PRESENT TREATY.
The existing Japanese treaty was amended to meet a temporary need in 1907, and the present treaty is being renewed. Neither party has been satisfied with its workings, and it is remarkable for its simplicity. Compared with other treaties of trade and commerce.

For instance, probably no provision of the acquisition and holding of land by alien subjects of Japan, not even the extremely limited "favored nations" clause, covers the usual common law right in such matters, and there is absolutely no provision whatever against discrimination. When Secretary Bryan transmitted the California bill to the President, he was aware that there was absolutely no trade prohibition against such action as the Californians now propose, and he must rely wholly on the Department of State to assist the national government in leaving the present situation to be settled by diplomatic methods.

President Wilson, however, has been advised by the Department of State, who has devoted much attention to the consideration of the rights of the alien landowners in California, were in early consideration for more than an hour today considering the prospects of being able to frame a new treaty with Japan, and the Japanese within a reasonable time. Probably a definite answer to the question can be given only after the conference has been extended to include Viscount China, the Japanese Ambassador here.

Senator Works of California today set out the views on the situation in a prepared statement in which he upheld the right of his State to enact such laws as the one in question and approved the viewpoint of the California legislators generally.

After President Wilson's conference, there was no information forthcoming from the President, or from the Cabinet, or from the State Department, or from the Japanese Ambassador here.

MOORE MEETS WITH CABINET.
When the Cabinet assembled John Bassett Moore, acting Secretary of State, was invited by the President to sit in the place of Mr. Bryan. It is a rare occasion when an acting head of a department sits with the Cabinet, and usually only for a brief period while the business of the department is considered. Mr. Moore stayed virtually throughout the Cabinet meeting, which was taken as an indication that the Japanese question took almost the entire time of the President's attention today.

While the Cabinet discussed the situation in Mexico to some extent, the principal subject under consideration was the attitude of the California Legislature toward Mr. Bryan's proposals.

NO CONCLUSIONS REACHED.
No messages were submitted by the President to be sent either to Mr. Bryan or to the California authorities, and members of the Cabinet also had no conclusions had been reached. This, it was said, however, would be the administration would not recede from its position as described by Mr. Bryan to the California Legislature yesterday.

PLAYING FOR TIME.
In the event of a rejection of these suggestions, Cabinet members felt that the Japanese government would realize that the government at Washington had no intention of using its power to prevent discriminations. There were intimations that some of the Cabinet reported getting some of the Cabinet members to make a careful inquiry into the California viewpoint on the Japanese question. This, it was said, however, would be in line with the suggestion to California.

PORTLAND (Or.), April 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mary Pratt Parmenter, a 53-year-old Oregon pioneer and resident of Salem, Or., died at the home of her sister, Mrs. H. A. Dr. A. S. Nichols, who attended the woman, said it was a case of plain insanity. The deceased was a member of the Charles Parmenter family.

She postponed consideration until a thorough investigation could be made and an understanding arrived at with Japan through diplomatic channels.

CHINA CONSULTS WITH MOORE.
Later Ambassador China visited the State Department and had a long and earnest conference with acting Secretary Moore. Both fully refused to discuss the situation, but it was believed that the official conference here over Secretary Bryan's telegram to the Japanese Ambassador extended to include the Japanese Ambassador and that the correspondence between Washington and Sacramento would include some of the results.

The bill, which was fathered by Representative N. J. Svendsen of Wrangell, was designed to bar Japanese fishermen who have rapidly increased their operations in Alaska waters in recent years. The bill was passed by a unanimous vote by both Houses a month ago, but on April 4 the Senate reconsidered the measure to await legal advice.

The young man, though, did not follow all the rules of hari-kari faithfully. He took the favorite knife of his brothers and used a first-class American .38 revolver for the deed. VOTE IN SENATE FAVORS INDUSTRIAL PARALYSIS.*Lawmakers Routed Out of Bed to Break Deadlock, Prize Fight and Water Commission Bills Go Over Another Day—Bryant's Measure to Abolish Capital Punishment Fails After Darrow Is Grilled in Debate.*BY LOU GUERNSEY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SACRAMENTO, April 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After a debate lasting several hours, and after a number of Senators had been routed out of bed to break a deadlock over an amendment, the Boynton workmen's compensation act, one of the most pernicious measures introduced during the session, was passed by a vote of 30 to 1 in the Senate.

The bill, which provides for compensation for employees injured in industrial accidents, will now go to the Assembly for approval. Senators who led the fight for the bill predict today that it will pass the lower house.

Senators Larkin and Cogswell offered amendments to the bill, before the roll was called. Every amendment was voted down. Farmers and dairymen are exempted from the bill, which includes a provision for a State insurance fund for injured employees.

WATER COMMISSION BILL.
Voting at the rate of 25 to 30, the Assembly today defeated an attempt on the part of Assemblyman Brown to amend the water commission bill so as to eliminate from its provisions part of a section relating to riparian rights. Brown wanted to take from the bill the provision that in case a riparian right to water is not exercised by a beneficial use of that water for a period of ten years, the right of the water goes to the State and it might be appropriated. The bill will go to final passage tomorrow.

PRIZE FIGHT BILL IN AIR.
The Senate returned to the debate on Senator Brown's prize fight bill this morning at which hour the motion by Brown to reconsider the vote by which his measure was defeated last week came up for order. Senator Brown renewed his argument of last week in favor of the bill. Senators Juillard, Cartwright and Finn opposed him. Senator Cobb again refused to vote. Vote on the motion to reconsider was taken, resulting in 19 yeas and 15 nays. Senator Brown demanded a call of the House. Roll call showed the absence of Senators Campbell, Hans Boynton and Stanford. The call was later suspended and the bill will come up for further consideration tomorrow.

GALLOWAY ARREST REINFORCED.
Senator Bryant's bill to abolish capital punishment and to make life imprisonment the punishment for murder in the first degree was passed by a vote of 21 yeas to 15 nays. The bill was sent out of the Judiciary Committee with a recommendation that it do not pass.

Senator Campbell of San Luis Obispo, who supported a similar bill in the Assembly, yesterday spoke against the measure on the ground that the murderer is now given every chance to escape punishment under the present law. He hoped the bill would be defeated by unanimous vote, so that other sessions of the Legislature will not be bothered about it.

Senator Benson of Santa Rosa, one of the two members of the Judiciary Committee favoring the measure, spoke for its passage. He said the trend of the world is along the lines of the Bryant bill. In his locality a murderer is now given every chance to escape punishment under the present law. He hoped the bill would be defeated by unanimous vote, so that other sessions of the Legislature will not be bothered about it.

Senator Anderson appealed to the Senate to listen to the arguments of the two members of the Judiciary Committee favoring the measure. He said the trend of the world is along the lines of the Bryant bill. In his locality a murderer is now given every chance to escape punishment under the present law. He hoped the bill would be defeated by unanimous vote, so that other sessions of the Legislature will not be bothered about it.

Senator Strobridge asked Senator Anderson if he considered Clarence Darrow a person whose advice should be considered in the Senate. Anderson defended Darrow.

DARROW DENOUNCED.
Strobridge scathingly denounced Darrow. Senator Cogswell also attacked Darrow. He declared that a disgrace came to the State of California when Clarence Darrow, the man who declared the Court House at Los Angeles that the dynamite who sent twenty innocent persons to their death were not guilty of any crime, as permitted to stand in the Senate chamber and address the people.

Senator Gates passed a lengthy argument against the Bryant bill on the details of the blowing up of the Times and the manner in which he held justice failed of her ends in that instance. The bloody incident converted him from a proponent of abolition of the gallows, a position he took two years ago, to one of its chief supporters, because the bill he supported would prevent the hanging of more than sixty hours in any week.

In addition to these individual efforts to defeat what was regarded as a measure which would bring financial disaster to them, the railway employees from various parts of California have arrived, while on delegations are on their way here to protest against the passage of Assemblyman McDonald's bill No. 14 prohibiting motormen and conductors on electric car lines from working more than ten hours in any one week or more than sixty hours in any week.

From information received here, it appears that the many who are opposed to the measure, and who are represented by Los Angeles, San Jose, Sacramento, Chico, Marysville, Visalia, Fresno and Stockton, who are now here, are determined to remain here and fight it to the end. They have signed petitions against the passage of the bill.

PAUL SHOUP AT SACRAMENTO.
President Paul Shoup of the Electric arrived tonight. He is following to say of proposed progressive legislation affecting the ways and other industries of the State.

"I have not accepted railroad work," he said.

CAN MAKE GESTURES.

The only method of communication employed by the man is motions with the left hand, and the articulation of "hi" and "ho" from time to time in his mute way he has endeavored to tell his story, a singular feature of his case being that he shows the highest intelligence and endeavors, as near as can be gleaned from his efforts, to reveal his identity. He joined the navy at Annapolis when a small boy, serving for many years. He had been commissioned to carry certain documents from Washington to San Francisco, and after spending one day in the western city started on his return to Washington, May 27, 1907, going to Minneapolis. He left Minneapolis in company with two other men, and three women, the party leaving the train at Wasca. While walking down the track he says he was hit on the head and robbed, and from that moment to this he cannot recall his name nor anything of his family history. Visited by a press representative, the patient's eyes would sparkle as he was shown pictures of the American flag, flags on the battleships or emblems of the navy. Noting the name of "Richard Roe" on the reporter's book, he made it manifest that it was wrong and laboriously wrote the initials "C. R." on the paper, affirming that they are right, but when questioned as to what each letter represented, he could not tell. He would give the impression that he was an officer in the navy by pointing to a star and by a motion, declaring he wore a star on the collar of his uniform, and thereby drawing a design of an anchor and three stripes, indicating he wore them on his sleeve.

INTEREST IS MANIFEST.

His own interest in his case was made manifest. When in his presence, officials of the hospital declared it was possible an operation on the brain would relieve a possible pressure. The patient made it known that he wanted such an operation, affirming his belief that it would restore his mind and relieve his paralysis. He further made known his desire to return to the navy or, if there was no hope, he was ready to die. The operation, it is stated, may be performed shortly, X-ray photos having been taken which indicate a possible pressure on the brain.

Real Corset Comfort

comes from more than a good shape. The right boning is a factor, and the fabric, too. If a corset is not comfortable, no matter how good the shape, it is anything but satisfactory.

This is an extreme design in Warner's Rust-Proof, but it fits comfortably. The bones do not press into the flesh—they are flexible and cannot hurt, no matter how tightly the corset is laced.

All Warner's Corsets are guaranteed not to break, the bones rust, or the fabric tear. Attached are the strong "Security" Rubber Button Hose Supporters.

Now $300 per Acre: and up— the cream of the famous San Fernando Mission Lands

Owens River Water

The Mission Lands are going fast. A short time will see this fertile garden section completely sold out.

The natural fertility of these garden lands will be intensified four fold by the coming of an abundant water supply. They lie right at the mouth of the aqueduct—where Owens River water will be delivered first.

A rich, well-watered fruit and vegetable land just beyond the confines of the city of Los Angeles and linked to her by a rapid transit electric line and wide asphalt boulevards—selling at the extremely low price of $300 an acre.

Visit San Fernando Mission Lands. See the new aqueduct—the old mission—the miles of green gardens and groves. Arrange for personally conducted auto or trolley trips.

BOY DROWNED IN THE SURF

Ocean Park

BOATWREN SURF.

Breakers Capsize Maryland Launch at Beach.

Heroism Displayed in Effort to Save Lives.

Body of Youthful Victim Not Yet Found.

OCEAN PARK, April 29.—Eddie Willis, aged 11 years, a navy-boy living at No. 3023 Highland avenue, was drowned, and Ensign H. W. Scofield and twelve members of the crew of the armored cruiser Maryland narrowly escaped death in the sea yesterday noon when the third steamer of the cruiser capsized in a heavy sea on the Venice breakwater.

As the result of the accident, Capt. Elliott of the cruiser has promulgated an order that no more "visitors" be carried from the shore to the cruiser of return passengers connected with the cruiser. As long as the heavy sea continues, no more shore boats will be operated from the pier of this beach to the cruiser. The accident has put a damper upon all entertainments planned for the officers and crew of the Maryland.

The Willis boy, Raymond Reid, son of John Reid, a restaurateur, living at No. 2928 Lake street, Ocean Park, convinced the officers and crew of the cruiser, and at 11:30 embarked on the third steamer, used to carry members of the army and navy from shore. Rarely are civilians allowed on these steamers. The navyboys were returning from the cruiser.

The third steamer was the command of E. Johnson, coxswain; Ensign H. W. Scofield being in the boat. The following men of the cruiser were aboard: Horatio H. Johnson, first mate; A. M. Short, plumber; F. C. Jenkins, seaman; D. C. Miller, engineer; H. W. Wheeler, seaman; James Clippin, palisade; L. M. Larson, first fireman; M. Mann, fireman; Fred Chaka, seaman; D. Meals, seaman; R. W. Knapp, seaman; and J. Cooper, first fireman.

The steamer had difficulty in approaching the wharf inside the breakwater, because of the heavy sea, and was forced to anchor about twenty yards to the east of the breakwater, near the pier. Ensign Scofield immediately took command.

Scofield ordered the line made fast to the wharf and another to the auto racing pier. The second steamer from the shore came to the rescue of the first boat. There was difference of opinion between Scofield and the officer of this boat as to the best plan for extricating the disabled vessel. A line was cast from the second steamer, which Scofield made fast to the stern of his boat. The line was then attached to the disabled vessel, the first steamer and the craft dragged off the sand bar. As she was beam on to the heavy sea, three big waves overtook her, and she was partially filled her with water. The second completely swamped her, and she then rolled over on her side.

The officer and men and two navyboys were thrown into the water and part of them struck out for the shore. Young Reid slipped off and Freeman, guard, reached the shore, and a few of the crew stuck to the overturned steamer, dragging the boys to its keel. Young Reid slipped off and Freeman, guard, reached the shore, and a few of the crew stuck to the overturned steamer, dragging the boys to its keel. Young Reid slipped off and Freeman, guard, reached the shore, and a few of the crew stuck to the overturned steamer, dragging the boys to its keel.

Several times the boys grabbed for his neck, but he pushed young Reid off and saved him to his shirt. Both were exhausted when the lifeguards, Marino, Haneset, Townsend, and others, reached the scene. J. B. Derby and George Wilds reached them and brought them to shore.

Seaman Heck had grasped the Willis boy near the Marine pier, and had cleared the overturned boat of struggling men and had headed for a skiff that the lifeguards had put out. Heck appeared and Ensign Scofield took the boy on his shoulder. Bravely did the officer battle with the oncoming sea, and he was over fifty feet from the high from the floor of the ocean. As especially heavy breaker tore the boy from his shoulder, he was unconscious. The ensign was picked up more dead than alive. He was hurried to the residence of Fire Chief Hubbard, on Ocean street, and Loredale avenue, where he was placed under the care of Drs. Bartlett and Turnbull.

Other officers from the cruiser came ashore and found havens for the seamen and others of the cruiser who were brought ashore. JAUNTY GERMAN LOCKED IN CELL.

HE CONFESSES TO STEALING EIGHT HUNDRED DOLLARS.

Secured Place in Bank by False Representation and Then Proceeds to Tread the Primrose Path of Dishonesty. With the Usual Result. Claims Family of Bank.

Bernard Percy Temple, reputed capitalist in the German army, a son of a wealthy family and a soldier under many flags, was arrested last night after confessing to the embezzlement of more than $100 from the International Exchange and Savings Bank, No. 225 Broadway, New York City. Temple, who is now in the city, was arrested in the city more than $200 in currency and transportation to Porto Rico were found in his possession.

Three weeks ago the dashing German appeared at the bank, introducing himself to John Lopez, president. He referred to many times prominent in German society in a manner so casual that the banker was impressed. He claimed to be the son of a wealthy family there, and bore letters from prominent bankers in Mexico City, introducing him to Lopez and recommending him for a position in the bank.

He was at once admitted to the bank force, in the foreign exchange department. Immediately afterwards in the cash account were noticed, beginning on the second day of his employment, withdrawals of $100, $200 and $300. He was at once suspected and Harris detectives were placed on his trail.

They shadowed him in numerous gay trips to Venice and Vienna, where he was a generous spender in entertaining young women about him in many evenings his expenditures amounting to nearly $100. When his favorite beverage, and his life in the entertainers in the house of call were so liberal that they began around his table whenever he appeared. He rapidly became a prominent figure along the "white" dressing immaculately, with his military moustache carefully pointed and waxed, erect of bearing and proper appearance.

When arrested last night in his rooms at the Hotel Burke, he confessed his innocence at first, then admitted his full participation before Detective Browning and Hovey. Father, he said, would willingly support him, and that he must be saved from all such at all costs. When confronted with a chronological record of his misdeeds, he confessed that he was engaged to marry Miss Anna Boyd, a maid in the Metropolitan barber shop, who was one of his constant companions. He was at the Hotel Apartments, No. 715 West Third street.

Temple claims to be an Italian friend of Gov. Lopez, and asked permission to telegraph him for relief from his present circumstances.

THOUSANDS OF CITIZENS CHEER THE KEYNOTE SPEECH OF CAMPAIGN BY THE NEXT MAYOR.

Tremendous Enthusiasm at Great Shenk and Stephens Meeting in Auditorium as the Leaders Set Out the All-important Issues—Words to the Point by Chairman Jess. Candidates Show High Sense of Duty to City.

THRILLING TO THE STIRRING MARTIAL MUSIC of the Veterans' Fife and Drum Corps and stirred by a declaration of independence of principle and of honest purpose to give of his best to the city's weal, a great outpouring of citizens cheered the next Mayor of Los Angeles to the echo at the Auditorium last evening as John W. Shenk, in a splendid keynote speech, nailed his colors to the mast, pledging himself to be true to the trust which the people are to give him, enforce the laws and strive with might and main for the upbuilding and development of the city destined to be the great commercial metropolis of the western world. Shenk's speech was a distinct triumph. It was devoid of oratorical phantasy, cant and flubdub. It rang true, it proclaimed the man, it limned the executive, it struck that crowd right where it lived.

The first great mass meeting of the campaign at the Auditorium last night under the auspices of the Municipal Conference attracted an audience of men and women which practically filled the Theater Beautiful and which listened with approval to an exposition of the issues of the campaign summed up in the word "efficiency."

The meeting was called to order by the chairman of the Municipal Conference, Stoddard Jess, who said: "Whom the gods would destroy they first make mad. From the publicists handed me by some of the newspapers of late it would indicate that I had perhaps unwittingly touched some tender spots and was being held responsible with others for interfering with somebody's plans."

"It is only those that throw dirt that need sympathy. It is their hands only that are soiled. Every man makes his own record and eventually must stand or fall by it."

"We have much to be thankful for in this world, and not the least is the fact that the false accusations of others can have no effect upon us. No one can make a man a liar but himself. To call names, to falsely accuse, is hurling javelins that fall short of the mark."

"To pervert the truth, to attempt to breed class prejudice, is not the part of good citizenship. When I am unmindful of the rights of others, when I cease to be helpful to my fellow-men, when I oppress the poor, when I fail to stand for a square deal for all either in public or private life, just distribution will surely overtake me, but not till then should the accusations of others cause me concern."

"I have been accused of being a friend of the power companies and not of the people. Time will make up the verdict and it will be seen whether those who would have the city wait for the much-needed revenue from the use of the water and power, the years that it would be necessary to construct the proposed high line for the distribution of water and the building of another light-distributing system, are the friends of the people or whether those who would carry out the Mulholland plan. Let the people withhold their verdicts and watch results."

"This conference is non-factional; it is not permanent, and its functions will end with the election. It stands for clean and efficient government, not partisan Los Angeles. We are now on the right track and the policy inaugurated by the Municipal Conference of 1913 should be perpetuated by delegates selected by the people. From Mayor down each candidate was selected because of his ability and integrity to serve the city honestly and conscientiously, and not one of them will take orders from any party or faction. The chairman introduced Albert Lee Stephens as the candidate best fitted to fill the second most important office within the gift of the people—that of City Attorney."

PRINCIPLE, NOT PREJUDICE.

Stephens began with the statement that he is looking for a city that is free to face with a new politics. He said, "a politics of principle instead of prejudice."

The speaker conceived the office for which he is a candidate to be divided into three distinct classes. The first of these is executive, and a leader is necessary who has executive ability. "I shall require as City Attorney," he told the audience, "that my deputies and staff keep their work up to date."

He then turned to the question of the city's future. "We are now on the right track and the policy inaugurated by the Municipal Conference of 1913 should be perpetuated by delegates selected by the people. From Mayor down each candidate was selected because of his ability and integrity to serve the city honestly and conscientiously, and not one of them will take orders from any party or faction. The chairman introduced Albert Lee Stephens as the candidate best fitted to fill the second most important office within the gift of the people—that of City Attorney."

John W. Shenk, candidate for Mayor. As he appeared last evening in his powerful address to the mass meeting at Temple Auditorium.

more those upon which there is disagreement. The second branch is judicial and consists of the city's courts. The third is the direction and formation of policy in advice and in the presentation of cases. Stephens concluded with the assurance that he is in complete accord with Mr. Shenk in his conduct of the office of City Attorney and in his platform of administration. Let the people desire for a He told the audience something of himself; of his thirty years' residence in Los Angeles, what he has done, and of what he hopes to do when the city becomes his client. "Effect us at the primary," was his parting injunction. "Save the cost of a second election and take us off the anxious seat."

Mrs. Kate Reynolds Lobinger pleaded for a large women's vote. "It is ten years ago," she said, "that we had a vote, and we must now take our full share of responsibility because we have a full voice in the selection of the candidates. Let us learn to swim in the way to learn to vote is to vote."

Mrs. Lobinger argued that special skill is required by those who would successfully man the municipal ship of state if a safe and steady voyage, with no delays and a sure arrival at an ultimate port is to be assured. "We must have men who are free and who will not be dictated to by any one, and these men we have in the candidates presented by the municipal conference of 1913—men who are big enough to look at a large thing in a large way."

The speaker urged the fair treatment of candidates and the getting-together spirit. "Emphasize the points within the restricted district. Permission was given, provided the march was outside the restricted district."

The parade was held in violation of the permit, and Kirk openly violated the ordinance at Fifth and E streets. The jury found that he joined in the violation of the law and that he was properly charged with criminal conspiracy. It was alleged that before the parade McKee busied himself in an effort to obtain pledges for the signing of bonds required upon arrest for violation of the ordinance.

It was asserted in behalf of Kirk and McKee that Dist. Atty. Uley was guilty of misconduct in the trial of the case. It appeared from the transcript that Uley, during the progress of the argument before the jury, said the private boast of one of the appellants was that he was connected with the Mulholland defense. McKee's brothers as of counsel. The court finds that, while such statements were made by Uley and that they were out of place in the connection, no objection was made at the time by the defendants, no misconduct then assigned, nor remonstrance of any kind presented. The court declares that reviewing courts are not permitted, even when matters prejudicial to their character appears in the record, to reverse such judgment unless from the entire record it appears that there has been a miscarriage of justice. This does not appear in this instance.

Angles had in its last census decade. Looking back on this ten-year period it seems one of amazing growth and progress, unparalleled in the history of any municipality. From a population of little more than 100,000 we grew with such rapidity that at the end of the decade we had multiplied this figure by more than three, and had taken rank among the foremost cities of the country in point of material advancement as well as increase in population. I would be carrying coals to Newcastle to repeat in detail, or even in generalities, the multitude of measure of things accomplished during that period.

In addition to the cohesive effort of enthusiastic citizens in private endeavor, the municipality was also ably assisted by the cooperation of the citizens of the city. In that decade, the growing city had done nothing more than exhibit the self-confidence that was shown in the beginning of the great conduct project, we should still take first rank in the cities of the world in the spirit of duty and the spirit of sacrifice.

When Shenk declared that Los Angeles is no place for slums, and said that he stands for proper housing conditions, the restriction of those who condemn the poor to squalor, the protection of newcomers against sharks of all kinds, a municipal employment bureau, a public library, a museum and art center; the extension of the public park system, more public playgrounds, decency in every department, impartial enforcement of the laws as they exist, the maintenance of the police and fire departments at a high state of efficiency, the elimination of factionalism and a pulling all together for the common good, in an administration standing for honesty plus efficiency, the crowd was quick to grasp the significance of the meaning of such an administration and signify its approval.

The attendance at the meeting was about evenly divided between men and women. The latter showed deep interest in the proceedings, and by their enthusiasm, evinced a determination to make themselves felt in no uncertain manner at the polls next Tuesday for a decent city efficiently governed.

SHENK DECLARES HIS CLEAR-CUT POLICY.

CITY ATTORNEY SHENK'S address at last night's meeting, in which he lays down a strong, clear-cut policy for the official conduct of the city, the meeting of its needs, and the development of its opportunities, follows, in full: Ten years is but a day in the life of a great city; yet what a day Los home and abroad in civic spirit, culture and achievement. The inception and building of the aqueduct the city has had the benefit of a few months' acquaintance, and to them we owe a debt of gratitude that cannot be measured in dollars and cents. These same months and years are big enough and brave enough to work out a satisfactory method for handling the surplus water supply, until the city shall have need of the same. They should have the co-operation of the legislative and executive departments of the city.

In connection with the major project is the splendid opportunity for the development of hydro-electric power. That power must be developed and carried to the home and the factory by the city. Why by the city? you may ask. First, because the law prohibits a leading or sale of this electricity for resale without a two-thirds vote of the people, and secondly, because the people of this city have too plainly indicated their desire for municipal distribution to admit of any doubt as to the proper course to pursue. The fact that a proposed bond issue recently failed to receive the necessary two-thirds vote—receiving, however, approximately 50,000 for and 50,000 against—has not materially altered the situation. There are privately owned distributing systems throughout the city. The distributing systems came into existence when there was public need for the service. But the time is at hand when Southern California undoubtedly will afford an ample market for the product of both private-owned and public-owned generating works, and it is fit and necessary, in my judgment, both from the standpoint of the law and the requirements of the public demand, that the city's product be distributed directly to the consumer by the city. This course of action requires that the city do one of two things, either acquire the existing distributing systems for the purposes of such direct distribution, or construct a system of its own. An agreement by which the city would obtain possession and use of the existing systems, coupled with a further agreement that the city acquire title to the property at a definite time and at a stipulated price, would, in my judgment, be practicable. To consummate such an agreement would require not only the willingness, but also the active co-operation of the companies in working out the details. There should be no dilly-dallying with this question. If, on the other hand, along this line cannot be reached without delay, then early resumption of the question appears to be the only alternative.

OUR UNFINISHED HARBOR.

We have an unfinished harbor which requires attention. The harbor is a magnificent project, and if the city had no other business enterprise on hand it could well consider itself fully equipped to undertake this work. The boldness of the city in annexing a strip of territory one-half mile wide and fourteen miles long, in order to become a part of the harbor towns for purposes of consolidation, does not evince a disposition to lag or falter in the future endeavor to complete the project. Improvement thus far may have seemed slow, but in order to harvest the crop, it is necessary first to clear the land. In proportion to the magnitude of the project is often the length of time required in preparation to take it that we are all of one mind on this question of harbor development. What is required is aggressive prosecution of the work and completion of improvements sufficient to meet earliest demands. The proceeds of the bond issue of $2,500,000 just authorized, will be expended under the direction of the Board of Harbor Commissioners. The dual control of harbor improvements created by operation of law upon the expenditure of the harbor bond money first authorized. Hereafter the Board of Harbor Commissioners, under their recent amendments to the charter, will have the opportunity to work out a practical and comprehensive plan for harbor development and improvement.

DO WELL WHAT'S AT HAND.

These three unfinished projects first require attention. But this is not all. The desire for municipal endeavor is not confined to them. The city has many needs, but everything cannot be done at once. It is vastly more desirable to do what is at hand than to dissipate one's energies and attentions by attempting too much at one time. We have great things to perform. Half of them have not been mentioned, and some of the things are little ones, in point of physical effort. Our concern should not be confined to those things which the dollar represents. I refer now to those matters which pertain to health, education, recreation, and amusement. Proper sanitation is required. There is no excuse here for slums. The suppression of vice is an anti-state to slum conditions. The proper housing is a cure. The rapacity of those who would profit by subjecting the poor to squalor must be met with restraint by the municipality.

The city should recognize and perform its duty toward those who are

Another great decade. I allude to this past decade because we are now well along on another similar period, which began with promise of greater growth, greater opportunity for municipal activity, greater ability of the city to sustain itself by revenue-producing enterprises, with consequent reductions in taxes, and a realization at the goal of a city of a million, dominant at

WEDNESDAY MORNING.

AND TOMORROW THEY ARE OFF.

Over One Hundred Cars Are Already Enlisted.

"Joy Ride" of Poor Kiddies to Be a Wonder.

Letter of a Little Yeaner to Miss Maude Adams.

May Day—the merriest day! That's what I say.

May Day, and a joy ride to the beach, all gloriously complicated with after-coaster trips and ice cream parlors, and the joy of digging one's small, grimy toes into the cool, oozy sand!

That's the sort of May Day several hundred poor kiddies of the city will have, thanks to the kindness of generous automobile owners of Los Angeles. Some of them have never ridden in an auto before. Some have never even seen the ocean.

Over one hundred autos will honk and bark their way to the beach in tomorrow's ride. Still, many more could be used. And The Times wishes to say to anyone whom the spirit moves, at the last moment, to contribute his machine, please call at one of the following schools: Castelar school, corner of College street; Hewitt school, near East First street;
Ninth-street school, corner of Ninth and Main streets; and pick up as many others as you can stow away.

Among those contributing autos for the poor children's ride is Bill Desmond, the matinee idol, who has responded from abroad and climbed up a big shrine.

And Maude Adams, patron saint of children, will send a car. There's a pretty story about that. Billie and Jo, twins who live at the orphan home, were taken to see Peter Pan on Tuesday night. "Oh, I wish Peter were going!" they cried, the other day, and someone suggested they write a letter to the little great lady.

Which they did. It reads like this:
"Dear Peter Pan: We love you and we wish you were going to have a good time like us on May day and bring the fairies and mermaids and ticking crockdiles and things along can't you come? We'll get you a place in a machine with lots of children so you won't feel lonesome and get your shadow caught or nothing. You know what a good time it is and believe me Venice is grate to not so exciting as never-never land but there's lots of ice-cream anyhow. So hopping to see you please come no more from your loving friends, Billie and Bob."

Needless to say, the letter fetched a car from Miss Adams.

Robert and Mary, and Elizabeth, three little girls, cannot go. Sarah also. But though Sarah's face was swollen until her eyes looked like two little slits, she declared she wasn't sick. She even offered to eat a pickle to prove it—and had to be led away to the hospital howling dismally.

Two children—Bertha and Nellie—have never seen the ocean, and their speculations are many.

"They say it slope like everything," exclaimed Bertha in awe.

"Yes, and it's full of jelly-fish and long vines!" Nellie piped up.

"Call me anything except to call me early!" is the usual slogan of youth. Not so tomorrow.

"We expect to be ready for the nerve garage by the time it's over," said a nurse at the Children's Hospital, "but we don't care. It's worth every bit of our trouble to see the little ones so happy."

Over at Castelar-street school, the little girls are bringing their white dresses into the laundry and washing and ironing and "summing them out behind," with a happy, call-me-early, mother-dear expression that would melt the stoniest-hearted machine owner if he could see it. Titian and Herman, two small Italian archers, are wearing their shoes out blacking them for the occasion.

The youngsters admit they are saving up their little departments of the interior for ice cream and candy and pop-corn.

A little crippled colored girl, Willie Jane Shepard, who lives at No. 2810 Old Temple road, never went on a joy ride in her life. W. H. Yell has kindly offered to give her this big pleasure. Willie will go in state in his machine. She is overjoyed.

Eat Raisins Wednesday, April 30th

Raisin Day was started in a small way by a few earnest growers in an effort to bring the raisin to its own. Everybody knew of raisins, but few THOUGHT RAISINS when baking day arrived. The success of Raisin Day in spreading broadcast the fame of California raisins is marked and has borne such good fruit that it should be a pleasure for every loyal Californian to help advertise the raisin.

The Times invites strong, clear, bright expression of opinion on current subjects, timely, pertinent and popular. Brevity should be kept in sight. Letters enclosed, signed and personal controversies are not. Conference of Nations.
LOS ANGELES, April 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] That "proverbial cloud no bigger than a man's head" has appeared in the heavens. It is evident to the casual observer that there is friction existing that does no good for Uncle Sam. England is protesting, saying we are not observing treaty rights with regard to the Panama Canal and is calling for the abrogation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty stipulation that the United States will be immune from attack? It is for the benefit of the whole world. It is a consideration of which we will up- on the granting of free tolls to coast- wise vessels there by avoiding the danger of warlike preparations. We have invited the whole world to join with us in a Panama Pacific Exposition, whereby we hope to establish a universal peace that will be in keep- ing with the enlightenment of the twentieth century. This may be the psychological opportunity when the world will become wiser, and the old- time injunction be realized, "Peace on earth, good will toward men." Then the east will clasp hands across the Atlantic with the west giving as- sure to the people of the Pacific Coast of the faith they have in their energy and ability to carry forward an en- deavor that will be an honor to the state of California and a benefit to mankind.

Provoking the Japanese.
SAN DIEGO, April 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I beg to state that there should be a resolu- tion passed by the Chamber of Com- merce or some other public body pro- viding against the vile, vulgar, stupid, action cartoon in the Scripps organs representing Japan as a squalling child by the side of big Uncle Sam, who says, "Somebody'll have to lick you, kid." This to the brave little Japanese nation that thrashed the most powerful empire in Europe and Asia. Suppose the Japanese were pro- voked by this silly bragging into sel- ing the Philippines—to hold which, I dare miles from our base of op- erations is surely a strategic blunder of the worst kind.

Could we "eat humble pie" and consent to a slap in the face like that? If not, then to send our feet and 100,000 men 5000 miles across the Pacific would be the stupendous task we should have to face. Our ex- pansion would be a failure. It would take years and a vast expenditure, and risk a naval battle at that distance in case of disaster, lay every home port open to attack and ruin business and real estate values for good to come.

I suggest that the Japanese land question be shelved till the canal is open and that we merely pass a law that the State may purchase any land in appraisement from any foreigners or citizens, no matter whether Asi- an or European.

When then, later on, American citi- zens want land and can't get it be- cause Asiatics or absentee Englishmen occupy it or lease it, then the State could buy these foreigners out and replace them with American citi- zens. This would be absolutely just to all parties.

Reflects Progress.
DOMINANT IN WORLD TRADE."

COMMERCE ANALYST PRE- DICTS CITY'S FUTURE.

One of the President of Germany's Greatest Bank, on Tour of the Country, Sees the Harbor and Other Municipal Possessions as New Through Crystal Ball.

"Due to the city's geographical position and other natural advantages, Los Angeles is destined to play a dom- inant part in the development of the world's trade," said Dr. Hans von Gwinner at the Alexandria yesterday. Dr. Von Gwinner is son of Arthur von Gwinner, president of the Ger- man Bank of Berlin, the most power- ful financial institution of the empire. He is in this city for a few days of lecturing and study.

"These matters are particularly in- teresting to him, and he has been studying the industrial and com- mercial progress of the United States compared with other countries."

"The other nations on earth can do as great a percentage of increase as we," said Dr. Von Gwinner. "Germany, for example, has in- creased the percentage of her indus- trial production to 19 per cent. for the last year, 12½ for Germany, 12 for the United States and 10 for France."

"I always more come for German products in foreign lands, and they need not be pushing and the means of a reciprocity tariff."

Germany today is looking to Los Angeles for enormous quantities of material, machines, appliances and tools. The present exchange of goods could be doubled and even tripled if the tariff were of a reciprocity nature. The statement of both sides would do well to study the matter of the other and balance the accordingly. When this is done, it will mean a great increase of business of manufacturers in the United States."

Dr. Von Gwinner declared the harbor de- velopment a marvelous engineering feat and predicted that the city's trade will largely come to Los Angeles as one of the first ports on the Pacific Coast.

"I will not overlook the opportu- nity of land now lying idle for settlement," he said. "If after the canal is completed and its op- eration is crippled by the high cus- tomers competition and other factors, it will mean the mak- ing of one of the greatest cities in the world of Los Angeles. At present it is considerable room for im- provement in the equipment of the city to make it come up to the needs of the world's trade."

Dr. Von Gwinner will enter the business with his father on his present tour. He is today for San Francisco, but will stop off at the Yosemite Valley tomorrow. He is an ardent advocate

ON HIGH SEAS TO AVOID JURY.

Men Said to Have Gone Out in Yacht.

Bixby Believed to Have Told Inquirers Nothing.

Witness Seems Annoyed by Curious Crowd.

Though none of the officials connected with the present grand-jury investigation of alleged white slavery in this city would make a definite statement last evening, it is believed the evidence supposed to connect George H. Bixby of Long Beach with the commission of criminal acts at the Jomquil apartments is about concluded. It is thought that Asst. Dist. Atty. Ford, after conferring with the police detectives to see if further testimony is forthcoming, will allow the grand jury an opportunity to deliberate and to weigh the question of blackmail.

The police detectives who interviewed the girls who brought specific charges against Bixby say they are of the opinion that the evidence is sufficient to warrant an indictment for contributing to the delinquency of Marie Brown Levy, but the jurors are the sole judges of the sufficiency of the evidence. Usually they accept suggestions from the District Attorney on the legal phase of cases. Mr. Bixby will not be convicted by a jury on the sole testimony of prostitutes, no matter what the detectives think. The grand jury may decide to make some finding in the Bixby case and then reconvene to consider numerous other cases of alleged contributing to the delinquency of girls under age. Under the direction of Detectives Boden and King a mass of evidence tending to connect well-known club men with this class of offenses has been gathered.

At the conclusion of yesterday's session Asst. Dist. Atty. Ford and Chief Trial Deputy Hammond held a conference with Detectives McLaren, Boden and King. It is believed this concerned the course the investigation is to take today. The officers have blank subpoenas and are coming adjoining cities in an effort to locate girls who are wanted as witnesses against other men whose names have not yet been made public.

Bixby was the most important witness before the grand jury yesterday, but it is believed he made no statement, taking advantage of the code provisions which give a person immunity if testimony is given against the legal pretense of the witness.

Dr. R. S. Lanierman, former coroner, was before the grand jury. It is believed his testimony was in regard to his medical treatment of one of the girls mentioned in connection with the cases of William La Casse and Dick Hollingsworth. The two young men are to have their preliminary examination on a statutory charge next Monday.

Mrs. Kittie Phillips, motion-picture actress, whose arrest by Private Detective Lloyd caused the present investigation, is expected to come to this city today to give her testimony. She is said to have had intimate relations with Bixby.

Detectives Boden and King passed a strenuous Monday night. They attempted to serve a subpoena on a Hollywood millionaire who has been named by some of the girls, only to learn that he has left the State. They hastened to South Pasadena to look for two girls who are said to have been occasional visitors at the Jomquil.

Others awaiting call included Susan Ramer, No. 114 Utah street, and her granddaughter, Ruth, 14 years old; C. O. Harshberger, who declared he did not know Mrs. Bixby; and a woman named N. E. Walthall, a railroad man. The Harshbergs have no connection with Bixby; it is said, but are mentioned in the grand jury room.

The appearance of Bixby in the morning session created the sensation of the day. He was followed by a curious crowd of spectators, who apparently were morbidly curious.

It is believed Bixby took advantage of the code section relating to criminal testimony and refused to testify. He was released by Asst. District Attorney Ford. He was in the grand jury room only about five minutes.

Nothing to say. After he had left the courtroom with Bixby, Attorney Lawrence did not think the interests of his client would be furthered by making any statement. He was of the opinion that the public refrains from coming to the surface. He said that the grand jury is to make an investigation of vice conditions, doubt evidence of importance to the community may be gathered.

Bixby appeared much more than on the previous day, but was greatly annoyed when the grand jury machine. It is believed he was the offices of his general counsel, son, Dunn & Crutcher for a talk.

It is believed that Bixby's eyes are prepared to hear of indictment and that the question of bond and the general procedure has been settled.

The grand jury will meet at 10 o'clock this morning.

OUT OF JAIL. William La Casse and Dick Hollingsworth, automobile salesmen, were arrested on charges of offenses against Miss Evelyn Quick, who has been referred to as a "high school girl," were released from the County Jail last night for $1000 cash bail each.

The release followed long scenes yesterday afternoon between Caste and Hollingsworth and attorneys, Dominguez and Gaudin, who were promised to that they would be out of jail a few hours.

La Casse will have his preliminary examination Monday morning. Hollingsworth's will be held the same day, Justice Reeve having the time when they were arrested Monday.

Both La Casse and Hollingsworth reiterated their contentions that they were innocent of the charges other than that they declined to

HI' WEST IS TIGER WATERLOO
Let's Venice Down With Three Lone Hits.
Kestner's Feelings Hurt by Bad Errors.
West Ball Features the Opening Game.

PORTLAND (Or.) April 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Beavers today won a hard-fought battle with the Tigers of Portland, 4 to 3. The game was a real slugfest, with both teams hitting hard and throwing out a lot of strikes. The Beavers' victory was due to their superior pitching and fielding. The Tigers' manager, Kestner, was very angry with his players for making so many errors. The game was a real test of the players' endurance and skill.

BEAVERS YIELD WELL.
It was a good game from a Portland standpoint. The Beavers played a very smart game, and the Tigers played a very hard game. The Beavers' pitching was excellent, and the Tigers' hitting was very good. The game was a real test of the players' endurance and skill.

VENICE SCORES.
The Beavers scored the third run in the first inning when Kestner again filled the bases with two walks and Duane's two-run homer. The Beavers scored again in the third inning when Kestner again filled the bases with two walks and Duane's two-run homer. OAKS HARVEST TWO.
Oakland indulged in enough scoring in the seventh to score some of our very best fans out of a year's growth. Not until they had crossed the plate twice could they be induced to deal. Abbott started it by beating out a tremulous grounder to Page. Hestling popped a mile high in front of the plate. The ball became wind-torn, and Bole had to do a bit of prospecting before he could locate it, but he managed to make the capture. Maggert went back and picked Coy's fly out of the Milky Way. Abbott decided that it was about time to be getting some place, and started out to steal second. He was safe when his slide tripped the ball out of Johnson's hands. Becker profited by Coy's error, and smashed the ball to the very extreme of Maggert's premises. It was a bona fide three-bagger, and scored Abbott. Becker scored when Johnson became over-eager on Gardner's grounder, and juggled. Ryan here pulled some something out of the situation by fanning Guest.

DEL HOWARD SAVES THE DAY.
Scores Winning Run in the Seventh Inning.
Many Double Plays Feature Close Struggle.

(BY NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN FRANCISCO, April 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Harry Wertz, ex-Oakland leader, and more recently chief of the New York Americans, was given a rousing cheer when he came upon the field today as pinch hitter for the Senators. It means that the fans were glad to see him back among us once more. And then those selfsame fans turned right around and applauded when Del Howard, as pinch hitter in the seventh, bled home the winning run that allowed the Seals to beat the Bolons, 4 to 3.

SEALS HIT HARD.
San Francisco landed on Athletics hard at times, and there was some element of luck connected with the score being kept so low as it was. Sacramento, at that, wound up the game with a hit more than the Seals, and a speedy double play in the eighth that barely prevented the Wolves putting across the run that would have tied it up for the second time.

OCCEIDENTAL MEETS L.A.M.
Thursday afternoon the Los Angeles Military Academy and the Occidental College tennis team will meet on the courts of the academy. This game is more or less in the way of a practice match for the Tigers, but some good play should result. Special interest will center in the first singles match between Herlihy of Occidental and Johnson, the little phenom of the academy. The Tigers have improved considerably lately, having finished second in the doubles at Ojai. The Occidental team will be composed of Herlihy, Montgomery, Johnson and Hines.

SOX SMEAR TIGERS; TY MAKES FIRST SHOWING (BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
DETROIT (Mich.) April 29.—In a game full of thrills from the first to the twelfth inning, Chicago defeated Detroit, 4 to 3. The game was a struggle, with the lead alternating from one team to the other all through the game. The Sox got a two-run lead in the first and the Tigers evened matters in the third; the Sox then piled up two more in the fourth and sixth and Detroit again evened matters in the eighth. Two runs in the first of the twelfth gave Chicago another big lead and the Tigers were only able to get one in their half of this inning.

BEACH COMBERS GET A TERRIBLE TRIMMING.
LONG BEACH, April 29.—Suffering an overwhelming defeat in the first league game played on the home field, the Long Beach Class D team continued to be clobbered by the San Diego men in the opening inning, and Adams took his place for the rest of the game. Stager of San Diego retired in the middle of the fourth in favor of Townsend after donating several walks and otherwise indicating that he was wearing out.

LOCAL HERO WOODCOCK PUT OUT BY PHILLIPS.

Ed Tufts Starts Natives by Wild Burst of Speed.
Mrs. Chase Wins Riverside Tournament—Mrs. Cochrane Takes Second Place by Clever Play—Mrs. Fulton Captures Cutting Trophy.

BY ALMA WHITTAKER.

THE second round matches in the San Gabriel Country Club's invitation, golf tournament, were completed yesterday afternoon.

The semi-finals in the first flight were Robert L. Tufts, who followed to his loss play of the previous day in defeating Harry Phillips of Riverside by the scratch score of 4 up and 5; Judge Fredericksen, who defeated T. S. Lippy of Annandale in a very close match by 1 up; Morris Phillips of Redlands, who extinguished the Gabrielite's own hero, H. N. H. Woodcock by 4 up and 1, and E. N. Wright of Annandale, who only just edged the persistent Edward Tufts in the nineteenth hole.

Tufts' match was a walk-over. Tufts seemed quite limp and his shot strokes failed him again and again. Besides, Tufts had the con- siderable handicap which is the least desirable in an opponent.

The Fredericksen-Lippy match was a gallery match. Woodcock was a good second in the world, but in the first hole he was out of the hole. Lippy is a good golfer and took some of the Judge's very best shots and the latter conceived the idea to outmaneuver his opponent.

The Phillips-Woodcock match was a triumph for the Redlands man and a surprise vanquish of Woodcock, a surprising succession of no less than six 7s in the first ten holes. Even a hero, with beautiful legs cannot hope to play against the sort of thing. They both started excellently by taking the first hole in 3, a par 4. A really stylish half that secured a gallery match. Woodcock took the second in 5 and they halved the third for 3. The fourth went to Woodcock, but after that the Phillips retained all the rest of the match.

At the long twelfth neither of the two drivers did well at all, but even so Phillips won it for 7 in Woodcock's 8. Woodcock redeemed his game somewhat with two pretty threes at the 14 and 15, both of which are par 3s, but it was Phillips' day and he came out with a 4 at the fourteenth, where he showed off with still another 3.

Their respective medal scores were 72 and 83 for the 18 holes. Tufts' for Woodcock and a 33 and a 40 for Phillips.

This leaves one representative for each country club in the semi-finals—San Gabriel, Los Angeles, Redlands and Annandale. Rather a tactical arrangement.

Edward Tufts was immensely proud to have carried E. N. Wright to the twentieth hole. Besides it really was not so very dreadful a feat as it seemed when one's fairly like, golden-headed little daughter has been carrying off such honors in the last few years. What is a mere father's puny golf match in comparison to a thing like that? Why, do you know that our own Tufts is a world champion? Oh, yes, very good match. Mr. Wright was playing his usual fine game and his partner made almost, but not quite, defeated him.

The second flight matches were a series of 1 up and 4 defeats. That was the exclusive score permitted in that flight. Harry Cole defeated Henry Norbury 1 up and 4. The first defeat Llewellyn Bixby with H. N. West Hughes defeated Edgar Williams with H. A. C. Sellers, won from W. M. Orr on those terms.

The third flight.

George Potter of Santa Barbara defeated A. E. Bell by 1 up and 4. The latter had been 5 up and I don't believe Mr. Bell liked it a little bit. When one has had that sort of a match, it is a little more than a little bit of a defeat. It is a little more than a little bit of a defeat. It is a little more than a little bit of a defeat.

Scales won by default from J. N. Kerr. I was so sorry Mr. Kerr did not play, because he has the most beautiful golf swing I have ever seen. He is the right one for golf. He is the right one for golf. He is the right one for golf.

Conde Jones comes through by default from Mackey, and I only hope he will have the courage to play and intimidate Conde Jones today.

The fourth flight.

Just exactly how a fourth flight man should be making as 18 is another matter for careful scrutiny. Leo Farmer defeated Capt. Wharton today on that score and ended a match that they argued about it until there wasn't any dinner left and he didn't get any. But what cared he? J. C. Lewis had fallen to his knees and up—and we had that excellent feeling of conquest upon us from the very outset.

W. L. Valentine won from Harker by 4 and 4.

In the sixth flight H. Hammond defeated Mr. Sweet. H. A. Chamberlain and F. D. Murphy had a fine match, in which the former won at the nineteenth hole. H. N. H. Woodcock was a very fine player and they had qualified within a stroke of each other—and I tell you, my dear, these tournaments are all right. Sort of thing that encourages a man's play and adds interest to the game generally.

Today's Matches.

Robert Tufts and Judge Fredericksen, Morris Phillips and E. N. Wright, Harry Cole and W. H. Corbett, Dr. Hughes and A. C. Sellers, Conde Jones and Urmston, Leo Farmer and H. D. Skelly, Salisbury and Brom- bick, Valentine and Bradley, Devereux and the winner of the Randall-Pierce match, Hammond and Chamberlain. In the first round there were five clinches that took up fifty-nine seconds. The second three clinches, which took thirty-eight seconds. The third, two, with twenty-one seconds. The fourth, three, with thirty-seven seconds; the fifth, two, with seventeen seconds; the sixth five, with twenty seconds; the seventh, five, taking forty seconds; the eighth, five, adding thirty-five seconds. The ninth with six clinches and forty-eight seconds; tenth, eight, and fifty-eight seconds; the eleventh with six and thirty-six seconds; twelfth six, and forty-two seconds; thirteenth, eight and forty-three seconds; fourteenth six, and thirty-seven seconds; fifteenth, eight and fifty seconds; sixteenth, eight and fifty-one seconds; seventeenth, seven and fifty-five seconds; eighteenth, nine, and fifty-four seconds; nineteenth, eleven, and sixty seconds; twentieth, eleven, and fifty-four seconds.

A. E. Elliott left Jim Parker in the running and he plays Laubersheimer who defeated C. C. Erickson in the twentieth hole. Harpham and Wallace won by default and play together today.

The Ladies at Riverside.

In the meantime an invitation tournament for the women golfers has been proceeding at Riverside and Mrs. Martin Chase is the heroine thereof. It was a thirty-six-hole choice score competition covering two days. Mrs. Chase won the first round, which was both best gross and best choice.

Mrs. Harry Kearne, Mrs. E. B. Howe and Mrs. George Cook tied for second prize so they played another 18 holes with a choice nine. Mrs. Chase and Mrs. Kearne tied again for the second prize, but Mrs. Chase putted on the green, when Mrs. Cook proved the final winner, with Mrs. Kearne second and Mrs. Howe third.

There is to be a stag dinner celebration on Saturday evening at the Victoria Club, Riverside, doubtless to commemorate the safe return of the successful golfer, who has beaten in the San Gabriel tournament—if they do return safely. I know some of them sat up all night Monday night, which is as bad for the complexion as the golf match.

There are fearful rumors that the Los Angeles Country Club will postpone their invitation tournament set for May 12. Too much golf is not good for either our tempers or our bank accounts.

Really the celebrity who played in the second round yesterday, who was the hero, looked wonderfully chic in his somewhat handkerchiefed.

STILL IN THE AIR.

Anti-Fight Bill Undergoing Some Very Radical Changes—Today Will Be Final.

SACRAMENTO, April 29.—Against the Senate failed to reach any decision today on the Brown bill prohibiting prize fights in California. Instead by a vote of 23 to 11 it put until 11 o'clock tomorrow morning consideration of the bill.

Senator Julliard, who was expected to be the senator himself, characterized it as virtually a substitute bill.

Senator Julliard's proposal is to substitute for the Brown bill the present anti-fight bill, with the exception of boxing matches except that where the code now reads that such matches shall be "for a limited number of rounds," Senator Julliard would have it read "not to exceed twenty rounds."

From 11:45 until 3:20 the Senate discussed the Brown bill behind locked doors, while the sergeant-at-arms was securing the capital for the Senate enough to insure a decisive vote, but when they were finally gathered, no vote was had. It was not without opposition. Wherefore, from Senator Julliard, Kahoe and others, desiring immediate consideration, that postponement was taken.

BIRTHDAY HIKE.

Old Veteran Climbs Mountain on Empty Stomach to Celebrate Sixty-sixth Year.

Dr. W. P. Warman, the veteran physical culturist, celebrated his sixty-sixth birthday yesterday by climbing Mt. Wilson and returning to the city before breakfast.

The doctor, with a party of friends, including Mr. W. H. Miller, president of the Venice club. This action was forecasted by The Times Monday morning.

The release of these men was in line with the policy of all National League clubs, who are required to reduce to twenty players by May 1. With Miller and Hogan it was just about a question of drawing power to decide who to let go. However, as it is their intention to gradually build up a new pitching staff, it was almost certain that some of the older hands would have to go.

Speed McDonnell and Rowdy Elliott have been placed on the suspended list, and this brings the Tigers within the limit. Both of them may be reinstated later. In the meantime Hogan has been placed on the "hot" list, and further line on his men before handing out additional releases.

Manager Mike of the Oakland club last night announced that he will today give Outfielder Odey C. Abbott his unconditional release. This will bring pay roll within the limit.

Frank W. Levitt, owner of the Oakland club, arrived here from the North yesterday, and will remain during the series.

POMONA HUNS HAVE GREAT HITTING TEAMS.

BY PAT MILLIKEN.

IN CASTING about for a reason for the present success of the Pomona College ball team a scout at the hitting averages given below should serve to explain matters.

It is a rare occurrence in college baseball for a team to have more than three or four .400 hitters. But this Hun aggregation is able to sport seven of this rare variety of ball players. Their hits are of the kind that go from the bat with a lot of "zip" and when a feller gets hold of one it makes its presence known.

Capt. Harry Kingman is playing his last year with the Huns and the people out Claremont way have already begun to weep. Kingman has been the most feared hitter of all the college men. It has been just about two years since King played a "blow." This is a record which will stand for some few days to come. His average for the present season to date is .597. Some average.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

An ordinance providing for the creation of a Municipal Charities Commission was presented to the Council yesterday and sent to the Finance Committee. Under this board all city money appropriated for charitable purposes would be expended, and it would also report on organizations appealing to the public for aid, and conduct a municipal employment bureau.

Hosts succeeded in having postponed the adoption of the auto stand ordinance yesterday and it will be redrafted so that the hotels may continue to control the stands in front of their places of business.

BOARD TO HANDLE CHARITY WORK.

ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR NEW COMMISSION DRAWN.

One of its functions would be to conduct Municipal Employment Bureau — May Receive Gifts and Requests for Philanthropic Purposes and Administer Trusts.

The draft of an ordinance creating a municipal charities commission and prescribing its powers and duties was presented to the City Council yesterday, and by it referred to the Finance Committee. That is, the ordinance will be given by the committee in the Council. The subject has been under discussion for months, and the ideas incorporated in the draft presented are those of Councilman Whiffen, chairman of the Finance Committee, who has planned for such a commission ever since the defeat of the charter proposed in December.

The ordinance provides that the Municipal Charities Commission shall consist of five members, to be appointed by the Mayor, subject to confirmation by the Council. The term of office for each commissioner shall be for four years, and they are to serve without compensation.

The powers of this commission are defined to include the investigation of all charities dependent upon public aid or general solicitation for support, and to insure that such charities are in accordance with the standards of efficiency and are conducted so as to insure the wise use of funds; to encourage the formation of new private charities to meet needs that are not already provided for, and to foster all worthy enterprises of a philanthropic nature, and give assistance thereto; to collect and preserve statistics relating to charities, conditions of life, unemployment and delinquency, and to suggest means for improving the conditions producing the need of relief; to maintain a constant survey of the field of charity with reference to the need and the work being done, and to secure intelligent co-operation among all charitable and social agencies in the city to the end that a comprehensive and economic plan in philanthropy may be attained.

The commission is also to have the power to disburse all funds set apart by the city for charitable purposes and to make a report to the City Council of the work done in connection therewith. It is also empowered to receive donations, gifts or bequests to be used for charitable or philanthropic purposes, and to administer trusts created for such purposes.

One of its chief functions, however, is to be the establishment and maintenance of a municipal free employment bureau on lines that will make the institution one of benefit to the public, both employer and the unemployed. The ordinance provides for the employment of a clerk at a regular monthly salary not to exceed $100.

AUTO STAND ORDINANCE.
HOTEL MEN'S OBJECTIONS.
The ordinance providing for public auto stands and regulating the issuance of permits to drivers of vehicles for hire was not adopted by the City Council yesterday, but was sent to the City Attorney for redrafting in such form that the hotel men will be able to maintain control of auto stands in front of their places of business.

John W. Mitchell, representing the Hotel Men's Association before the Council yesterday and made strong objection to the ordinance proposed, declaring that it was an attempt to take away from the hotel men the business of the traveling public. Representatives of auto owners engaged in the passenger service also opposed the ordinance, claiming that it would not allow the selection of permanent stands.

After a long argument, during which Councilman Andrews declared that it is common report that the Alexandria Hotel derives an income of $1000 a year from the parking of automobiles in front of the hotel, the Council decided to file the recommendation that the ordinance be adopted, and a redraft will be considered next week. This will accord the hotel men the privileges they desire.

ROOSTER RESEARCH.
NATIONAL INVESTIGATION.

The roosters of the nation are to be investigated, also the modest hen, under the auspices of the Los Angeles Municipal League. This announcement was made in the Council yesterday at the City Hall. The status of the domestic fowl in every city of importance in the United States is to be accurately determined, and this will be reduced to a definite statement.

Upon this momentous finding will depend the future of Mr. Chickadee and Mrs. Biddy in Los Angeles. Pending this investigation, the City Council will proceed with other business.

All this came about through the agitation of one Clifford Howard, a writer on economic subjects, who addressed the Public Welfare Committee at a recent session on the subject of creating districts in the city where, in the temperate country should be prohibited. Howard was not exactly clear as to whether the lines should be strictly drawn against the industrious hen, but he had not a single doubt regarding the advisability of shutting out the crowing rooster. The Public Welfare Committee stepped and referred the subject to the Council without recommendation.

Yesterday Howard appeared before the Council and declared that the subject, upon further investigation, had developed into such huge proportions, with so many ramifications, that he felt a shrinking fear of modesty in asking the Council to act upon his initiative, but that he was happy to assure the Council that Harold Ryerson, acting secretary of the Municipal League, had undertaken on behalf of the league to conduct a nation-wide investigation of the status of the domestic fowl in the larger cities, and to make a report thereon.

Councilman Reed moved that the Municipal League be asked to report to the Council on this subject, but a motion to file it prevailed. Ryerson had been asked to investigate his research work an investigation as to what is considered the most acceptable in which roosters may crow and to recommend the strain of rooster that has attained this proficiency.

WILL TRANSFER SOON.
APPROXIMATE OF THE AQUEDUCT.
About May 16 the Board of Public Works will transfer all affairs of the aqueduct bureau to the control of the Public Service Commission.

The Board of Public Works adopted a resolution yesterday providing for the employment of J. R. Lippincott at the rate of $125 a month for the time actually employed, for the purpose of assisting Chief Engineer Mulholland in making the final report on the Los Angeles Aqueduct, such work to be completed before July 1. The legal department was instructed to prepare the necessary contract.

In discussing the provisions for the transfer of the aqueduct department to the Public Service Commission, Commissioner Handley suggested that it would be appropriate for the City Auditor to make a check of all records and documents thus surrendered, so that no questions might arise in future as to the status of the work at the time such delivery is made.

The aqueduct bureau lease of quarters in the Central building will expire the last of May. The Aqueduct Commission will still require office space, however, and the Public Service Commission will have to use more room for the bureau it will take over from the Board of Public Works, so it is probable that a new lease on the same quarters, or at least a portion of them, will be required.

Wants Small Denominations.
When the question of ordering the printing of bonds authorized by the recent election was before the City Council yesterday, Councilman Reed urged that the bonds be printed in denominations of $100 and $500, in order to give the small investor opportunity to secure some of this issue.

Councilman Whiffen objected, as he declared that the 4 1/2 per cent. interest offered on these bonds would not be attractive to the small investor, he being able to secure a better rate for small amounts. Reed insisted that in view of the city's past experience in marketing bonds the smaller denominations should be used. The subject was finally referred to the Finance Committee for investigation.

Cars Must Stop There.
President Williams introduced in the City Council a resolution yesterday, which was unanimously adopted, providing that because of recent accidents occurring at Figueroa street and Santa Barbara street, the use of street car collisions with vehicles, and the existence of similar conditions at Grand avenue and Santa Barbara avenue, the Los Angeles Railway Corporation be required to cause its cars to come to a full stop at these crossings.

Proposed Road Districts.
Councilman McKenzie introduced in yesterday's Council session a resolution providing for the formation of the city into road districts, as proposed for in one of the recently adopted charter amendments, each district to have a street superintendent whose duty it shall be to keep track of all improvements in his district to have charge of all street repairs in such district and to keep generally informed in regard to street conditions therein.

McKenzie declared that the street mileage of Los Angeles exceeds that of New York City, and that the proposed more is necessary because of the vast number of street improvements constantly under way, making it difficult to handle the same by the present method of property owners keeping track of their progress at one central point. He believes that the system proposed would be of advantage to the property owners, as they would be enabled to learn of the exact status of any improvement proceedings without the difficulties to which they are now subjected.

The Council referred the resolution to the Board of Public Works.

City Hall Revivified.

The New Normal School District Improvement Association has sent to the City Council resolutions asking that provisions be made for enforcing the ordinance making it compulsory for lot owners to remove from vacant property weeds, rubbish, etc., during the two weeks succeeding the third Monday in April.

The Council adopted an amendment to the Traffic ordinance yesterday that prohibits the stopping of vehicles within ten feet of the rear of street cars stopping at street intersections for the taking on or discharging of passengers.

Initial steps were taken yesterday to renew proceedings for the opening of Balacon street between Normandie and Pacific avenues. The Council instructed the City Attorney to prepare the necessary ordinance of intention.

MUTE ANSWERS DON'T APPEASE.

HE SHUGGS SHOULDERS; WIFE SUES FOR DIVORCE.

And Court Grants Decree, Not for Offense Charged, but on Account of Desecration—Her Curiosity About Patients Appears to Have Bored Doctor—Settlement.

Mrs. Eric Douglass declared in the divorce court yesterday that her husband, Dr. J. Park Douglass, with offices in the Douglas building, left her May 14, 1911, to go north with patients and did not return to live with her.

"Don't you know why he left you?" asked Judge Monroe. Mrs. Douglass replied that she did not.

"Didn't you have any curiosity about it?"

"I asked him several times," was her answer, "but he only shrugged his shoulders and raised his eyebrows."

Referring to Dr. Douglass's allegations in his cross-complaint of cruelty, Judge Monroe wanted to know if Douglass had not complained of her nagging, that she would not let him make suggestions about the office girl.

"Yes, I did," said Mrs. Douglass, "but not until I had sufficient cause to complain about the office girl. She insulted me. I asked my husband to send her away, and he slapped my face and threw me down. He refused to discharge her."

Referring to her curiosity about his patients, Attorney Foley, counsel for Douglass, asked if she had not irritated him. Mrs. Douglass said she asked only about her intimate friends, and the doctor told her to ask them.

"You had no business to ask him, anyway," said the court. "However, that's no cause for divorce or for a man leaving his wife."

Mrs. Douglass emphatically denied having said if the doctor did not discontinue employing a nurse called "Blonde," she would ruin him.

Douglass intended to make a fight, but as Attorney Foley's ideas about cruelty did not agree with the court's, he put in no direct evidence, in his cross-complaint, and on the ground of desertion. Dr. Douglass, according to a stipulation, will make a cash settlement of $1000.

EXPERT VIEWS.
VALUES OF METAL TRIM.
If the way is opened Attorney Messerv and Berden, representing the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors, will sue to recover $10,000 balance due for the metal trim in the Hall of Records, which he constructed in 1913, and which he claims to be worth $10,000 more than the contract price of $400,000.

The substitution was authorized by resolution of the former Board of Supervisors, on the understanding that the baked enamel would cost not more than the copper trim. It is alleged that the concern furnishing the baked enamel, a hot copper trim, was of the view of showing a fine interior finish.

Former Supervisors Eldridge and McCabe testified at the trial before Judge Bledsoe yesterday that the resolution substituting the baked enamel was rescinded in May, 1909, after a thorough study of sample work of the baked enamel. The case promises to consume several days, as it turns on the purely legal question whether or not the Supervisors had the right to authorize the change in the specifications. The county is represented by Deputy District Attorney and Attorneys Hanna and Anderson.

ON THE PONIES.

BETTING LEADS TO PRISON.

Owen J. McKenna, the clerk of the Los Angeles Bank, who is said to have embezzled nearly $30,000 to gamble on horse races, was sentenced to three years in San Quentin by Judge Finckley yesterday.

Morris made a virtual confession of his guilt to Philip L. Wilson, president of the bank, but this was done when he found it was too late to cover up his series of alleged defalcations. According to Wilson, Morris said he took his own savings to bet on the "ponies" and when that was gone he abstracted some from the bank. This followed the same course as the other.

Finally a shortage was found and Morris was arrested. A preliminary examination was held before Justice Summerfield and enough testimony was introduced by the bank officers to show one specific alleged shortage of $1000.

In imposing sentence Judge Finckley gave a talk on the evils of the 27th clause, which is styled yesterday by E. Bruce Lockwood and Bertha Lockwood, named as executors in the will. The real property includes lots in the Yabancum tract and the residence, No. 431 Kohler street. Premises mortgage aggregate $1750 and there was $1225.02 cash in bank. The estate was valued at $25,000.

The will distributes the estate as follows: One-sixth each to her sisters, Elizabeth S. Howard, of Burlington, and Mary J. McGrath and A.

GOES TO PATTON.

FINE INTELLECT ASTRAY.

It seemed a foregone conclusion that the jury would find Joseph W. Johnson insane. He was so pronounced by the Lunacy Commission, and Dr. Elizabeth F. Kearney, Johnson's attorney, asked for a jury trial, and yesterday he heard the verdict. Attorney Bullock made a vigorous fight to save his client from walls of Patton, but the jury returned a verdict of insanity, which was dishonored for lack of funds.

Johnson years ago was president of an eastern bank and general manager of a Texas insurance company. His brother testified that Joseph was a successful business man until his mind seemed to become deranged. But even in this condition he turned out literary works which do not indicate an insane man.

His latest vagary was to engage a suite of four rooms at a leading hotel, employ a secretary and several stenographers, and occupy the suite until a considerable bill had accumulated, when he gave stentorian drafts.

Judge Willis asked a hotel clerk who had testified if he did not consider that an irrational sign in a man. The clerk responded that not for national men frequently do it.

SAYS IT'S ACCIDENT.

WIDOW AWARDED POLICY.

The most question whether Albert McEwen died as the result of a fall or from heart disease was settled yesterday when a jury in Judge Wood's court awarded the widow, Rachel McEwen, $115,000 damages against the Occidental Life Insurance Company. She sued for the amount of the policy, $10,000, and interest.

The testimony showed that McEwen held a policy in the Occidental. Shortly before his death he was taken sick, and endeavoring to get out of bed he fell and was found dead by his relatives. The company contended that McEwen died of heart disease, the result of an accident, but that death was due to natural causes, hence he could not recover under the provisions of the policy. Medical experts were called to give their views on the problematical cause of death. No autopsy had been held.

ENDS IN COURT.

SHORT-LIVED BLISS.

Mrs. Bertha Pearl Powers testified in the divorce court yesterday that when she found her husband, J. P. Powers, intoxicated by drink on their marriage, romance was destroyed. She was a bride of a day, for she alleged she did not live with him after this discovery. She brought suit for annulment on the ground that at the time of the marriage he was insane.

An important factor in obtaining a divorce from her husband yesterday was the testimony of Attorney McKeeby, who said he saw Powers in jail intoxicated and on the verge of delirium tremens. This was four days after the marriage. Powers was formerly employed in a shoe store at Riverdale.

SUES FOR FEES.

ECHO OF DIVORCE SUIT.

Earl Rogers and W. H. Dehm, who represented Owen McCann, the wealthy Pittsburgh producer merchant, in the divorce suit brought by his wife last January, filed suit yesterday to recover $15,000 balance due for legal services.

A property settlement was one of the features of the divorce action. McCann refused to sign a $25,000 mortgage on Pittsburgh property guaranteeing the payment of $125,000 cash orders by Judge McKeeby on the ground that his brother held a half interest in the holdings. The matter was arranged by eliminating all of McCann's holdings. Mrs. McCann obtained the decree on the ground of cruelty.

Rogers and Dehm were paid, the complaint alleged, $1750 an account. It is understood that McCann objected to the bill when finally rendered, alleging it was too high.
